Working on a notebook is uncomfortable. The screen is much too low and too close, causing your back and neck to bend. Alto Connect elevates your notebook display, encouraging a correct ergonomic position by allowing your back, head and neck to adopt a more natural position. You're more relaxed—and more productive. The stand's durable construction features a rubber surface that secures your notebook. A high-speed USB hub provides effortless connectivity with external drives printers, and more. An extra port on the front of the stand provides easy access to personal media. Works with virtually all notebooks.
