

Designed specially for use around the house, the M214C Headset provides an economical, hands-free solution for taking calls on your cordless or cell phone while you attend to your many duties. Whether you're working from home or racing through household chores, this headset lets you talk hands-free, eliminating the neck strain that can be caused by balancing your cordless handset or cell phone on your shoulder.

- Headset easily plugs into cordless handsets and cell phones (requires 2.5 mm jack)
- Boom-style microphone with noise-canceling technology for enhanced sound clarity
- Lightweight, over-the-head design with adjustable headband for comfortable, secure fit
- Single-ear design lets you keep one ear on your household
- One-touch in-line volume and mute controls puts sound management within easy reach
- One-year warranty